

Devin Patel a Great Match for Mercer University

June 1, 2008

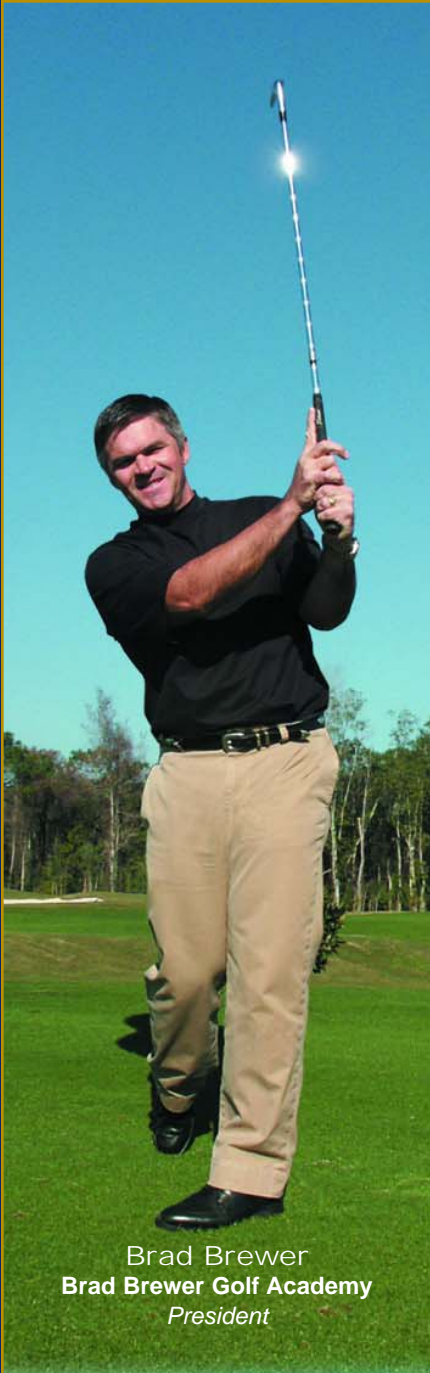

ORLANDO, Fla.—Count on Circle Christian graduate, Devin Patel, to be a major contributor to the Men's Golf Program at Mercer University in Macon, Georgia this year.

Devin found all he hoped for in a higher education experience with Mercer. "A strong academic program was my first priority, followed very closely by a school that takes their golf seriously," said Devin. What else could have influenced his decision to sign with Mercer instead of one of several other fine schools vying for his attention? "Everyone has so much respect for the men's golf coach, he is very young, I believe in him and his plan to take us to Top 25 positioning; and, Mercer's home course is amazing. It's the exclusive, "Brickyard" host of one of the biggest college tournaments in the region," adds Devin.

Devin we will miss not seeing your smiling face and feeling your positive vibes out here at the BBGA on a weekly basis. Mercer is so fortunate to have discovered you! We will be following your success. All our very best to you and your new Mercer family.
