ORLANDO (Dec. 5, 2008) – Brad Brewer, who is already recognized as one of the leading golf instructors in the game, is continuing to garner acclaim for his teaching by having the Brad Brewer Golf Academy named as one of the top 25 golf schools in the US by GOLF Magazine.

The academy is located at Shingle Creek Golf Club and Rosen Shingle Creek hotel in Orlando, where Brewer is the president of the academy that bears his name. This is the second time GOLF Magazine has honored Brewer. The publication previously named him a Top 100 Teacher in 2007.

The Brad Brewer Golf Academy had to pass a wide-ranging and diligent review process from GOLF Magazine's Golf School Evaluation Panel regarding its basic structure and qualifications. Defining criteria included: breadth of programs, tee-to-green skill improvement; student-to-teacher ratio; and technology, particularly where winning schools favored advanced technologies like video analysis, be incorporated into their lesson plans. The number of instruction hours was also considered, as were the quality of facilities and accommodations. Finally, the level of experience, including knowledge and experience of the staff, drew favor from the evaluation panel.

The Brad Brewer Golf Academy, as well as the other Top 25 Golf Schools in America that were named, met those criteria at a higher level than non-selected schools.

“I am extremely honored to have our school recognized by GOLF Magazine as one of the best in the country,” says Brewer, who is also host of The Daily Brew for The Golf Channel, as well as its lead instructor of their online academy. “We work effectively to provide golfers with the very best instruction, technology, facility and programs that we can, and this accolade reflects our efforts.”

“Brad Brewer displays a passion and love for golf that carries over into his teaching, which is a key reason our guests enjoy receiving his instruction and learning the game through him,” says Dave Scott, Director of Golf at Shingle Creek Golf Club. “He is an asset to our facility in every way possible and is one of the reasons Shingle Creek is regarded as one of the top golf destinations in Florida, as well as the U.S.”

VIP “Great Golf Experience”

Shingle Creek Golf Club is celebrating Brewer’s latest honor with a VIP “Great Golf Experience” that will be highlighted by an exclusive day of private instruction with Brewer, which is worth its weight in golfing gold for any player seeking to improve their game. The program will focus on all fundamentals from Scoring Zone through Full Swing, utilizing computerized swing technology. It includes On Course Management with an 18-hole playing and coaching session. The first two hours of instruction will take place at the Brad Brewer Golf Academy, followed by an 18-hole playing lesson at the award-winning Shingle Creek Golf Club. Shingle Creek Golf Club recently received four stars from the Golf Digest guide as one of the best places to play 2008/2009.

The “Great Golf Experience” extends beyond the golf course with a private tour of The Golf Channel and an up close look at the sets and personalities normally only seen on TV. Lunch, an amenity gift package, on course snack, and ground transportation to and from The Golf Channel are included for $1299.

Special pricing for luxury accommodations is being offered at the 1,500-room AAA Four Diamond Rosen Shingle Creek luxury hotel, conveniently located at 9939 Universal Blvd., just off the International Drive tourist district and ten minutes from the Orlando International Airport. For more information, visit www.rosenshinglecreek.com.

The “Great Golf Experience” can be customized to best fit a VIP’s needs and is being offered through 2009. To book your package call direct, 407-996-3306, or toll-free, 866-996-9939, and ask for the Brad Brewer Golf Academy.
